

Artist Paul Hobbs with two of his exhibition pieces, The Head of Christ and The Body of Christ, being displayed at Ripon Cathedral.

Eye-catching exhibition

A STRIKING series of paintings based on the Holy Trinity has gone on display in Ripon Cathedral.

The bright, abstract designs are the work of Gloucester artist Paul Hobbs, with the largest work measuring five metres high and hanging vertically from one of the pillars in the nave.

The show is entitled 'Three in One' and features 23 paintings that have previously been shown at Gloucester and Bradford Cathedrals. The exhibition in Ripon Cathedral opens today and runs until May 18.
